Jason goes the distance

QUALITY Systems Manager Jason Coulborn has proved his levels of personal fitness, endurance and stamina beyond all doubt, by taking part in - and completing - the annual 'Christie Bike Ride, from Salford Quays to Blackpool.

In finishing the challenging, energy-sapping 60-mile course from the Imperial War Museum North in Trafford Park, to the South Shore in a very creditable time of 4 hours 17 minutes and 47 seconds, sports-mad Jason, accompanied by his friend Simon, achieved another personal best and realised his target of raising money for the Christie NHS Foundation Trust. Based in the Withington district of Manchester, this is one of the largest cancer treatment centres in Europe and an international pioneer in the field of cancer research and development.

"The Christie is such a fantastic place that exists to give renewed hope and encouragement to families affected by cancer," confirms Jason, "and I'm proud to have been able to play a part - however small - in helping it carry on funding the treatment of more than 40,000 patients a year. It's a charitable organisation that's very close to my heart," Jason concludes, "and I'm resolved to competing in the event again next year, hopefully beating this year's time in the process."

Turner & Coates' Marketing Manager Amanda Breward was in the crowd that lined South Promenade to cheer the cyclists along the home straight. "To see Jason crossing the finishing line in such fine style was an inspiring moment," admits Amanda. "It has also motivated one or two of us in the office to venture out on our bikes, with the aim of competing next year." Well done Jason!
