

The TURNER & COATES 14^{OVER} YEARS OF EXCELLENCE AS STANDARD Global Examiner

Running the rule over domestic and international business since 1880!

Issue 29 - August 2021

Normal service is resumed to businesses throughout England

Spelling it out: Monday 19th July 2021 marked the end of COVID-19 restrictions here in England, with devolved governments across the UK's other nations setting their own policies with regard to the mandatory wearing of PPE equipment at industrial sites, and to domestic and international travel.

IT'S finally arrived... Freedom Day here in the UK was Monday 19th July, marking the official end of over a year of COVID-19 restrictions.

Obviously, this is hugely welcome news for everybody connected with Turner & Coates. It means that we can now finally resume with physical inspections at sites located anywhere in England, whilst keeping our full suite of remote services available to our clients across the globe.

In addition to this, the devolved administrations in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are currently formulating their own policies regarding the wearing of PPE equipment on industrial sites, and we will be keeping you fully informed of any updates that could affect visits to your business, through our normal channels.

As far as non-UK visits are concerned, these are also beginning to pick up pace. We have recently undertaken physical visits in Austria, Brazil, China, Germany, Hungary, India and Poland through our network of locally-based inspectors, and hope to add more countries back to our own 'green' list very soon.

As of 23rd July, quarantine-free, unrestricted business travel from the UK is permitted to Bulgaria, Israel, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand, Iceland, Hong Kong, Croatia and Japan, but, as we all know, the COVID-19 situation remains fluid worldwide, with nations being added to and removed from the UK's safe-travel list by our Government at regular intervals.

With this in mind, we will of course keep you in the loop regarding any potential changes to our physical service package.

Keeping all of our engineers on the same page

Promoting industry best practice across all engineering sectors, is something that's continually driven Turner & Coates since our foundation way back in 1880.

Ensuring that the most up-to-date, accurate and consistent information and standards get out to our global network of inspection engineers, is vital to preserving and enhancing the excellence of our day-to-day operations.

Which is why we have launched a new, in-house publication dedicated to keeping all of our engineers on the same page.

Simply entitled 'The Bulletin', this regular, one-page newsletter was rolled out last month with a full focus on the correct installation and torque application of nuts and bolts, to achieve full fastener strength and avoid short bolting and, ultimately, thread stripping.

Issue 2 of 'The Bulletin' - to be published later this month - is dedicated to the proper use of tape measures and related devices.
